Supervisor Track: Reflective Supervision for the Whole Job

July 2025 - April 2026

About this Course

This content includes:

- A focus on skills needed for the whole job, and all the roles of a reflective supervisor.
- A transformative reflective supervision practice training informed by a robust evidence informed approach.
- An infusion of the structure and materials from the FAN and RIOS, two well-developed models of structuring reflective practice and supervision.

Who is this course for?

Individuals who have completed introductory training and have experience providing reflective supervision. This training expands on those skills and deepen their supervisory practice.

What does Track 1 training include?

- Eight virtual Learning Blocks consisting of sixteen (16) two-hour sessions scheduled twice a month
- Seven 90-minute small group community of practice sessions
- Approximately 17 hour of asynchronous learning work including reading, viewing video clips and reflective writing

REBECCA SHAHMOON SHANOK MEMORIAL SCHOLARSHIP FUND

"This course has changed the way I see myself as a supervisor. It has given me the skills I can use to continue to learn and be reflective in my work in supervising others."

"Very intensive and helpful. I think that the best part was the length of time and ability dig deep in that time."

"I needed a framework, a touchstone, to be able to move my own practice forward. This course gave me structure, and created a vision of reflective supervision that is so rooted... that I can carry it with me into all the realms I move through with curiosity and wonder."
